

St. Michael Catholic School Honor Code

The academically honest student:

DOES

- Tell the truth
- Acknowledge the source of direct quotations
- Acknowledge information taken from print, media, and electronic sources
- Acknowledge reference materials in a bibliography
- Acknowledge help from parents, older students and friends
- Follow all assignment and testing rules
- Know what constitutes cheating and abides by the rules

DOES NOT

- Do homework for another student
- Give another student his/her own work to copy
- Copy from the homework of another student
- Hand in copied work as his/her own
- Hand in work completed by someone else
- Copy from another student during a test or quiz
- Use notes during a test unless allowed by a teacher
- Write notes in a convenient place and refer to them during a test or quiz
- Share quiz or test questions with someone who has not taken the assessment
- Sabotage or prevent others from completing their work
- Plagiarize another's words or ideas (including data downloaded from the Internet) in a research paper, report, essay, or other work

The StMCS Code of Student Conduct Defines Cheating as:

Representing someone else's work as your own and/or any prohibited sharing of information between students regarding an assignment or assessment.
